Opportunity to join us in creating a unique mosaic for Parkfield House

Philip Hardaker is a local ceramicist who has worked with and for multiple private and community clients, with schools, councils and universities to create stunning works of art personalised to their specific artistic requirements. Examples of his extensive work can be found overleaf and on his web site:

www.philiphardaker.co.uk

We have invited Philip to work with us to create a large mosaic that will sit above the fireplace in the downstairs community hub in Parkfield House. This will comprise of 50 tiles, to commemorate 50 years of the Beth Johnson Foundation.

Initially, interested people will be invited to a one-hour Zoom meeting, where Philip will introduce the process of designing their tile. Following this, you are invited to attend one, 90-minute workshop to create your tile from a series of three dates; and finally attend a drop in session to paint your tile. Dates can be found below:

- Introductory Zoom meeting with Philip — Thursday 26th May 2pm
- Tile Workshop one — Tuesday 31st May
- Tile Workshop two — Wednesday 1st June
- Tile Workshop three — Wednesday 8th June
- Painting Workshop — Monday 20th June

Each tile workshop will contain three workshops (10.30-12; 1-2.30; 3-4.30) and the painting workshop will be a drop in session from 10 am onwards.

Maximum number of tiles is 50, including two for LGNI. Participants include volunteers, clients, staff, trustees, patron, and stake holders.

We do hope you will consider joining us to develop this unique mosaic, where you can share your creative talents and learn some of the skills in the process of the pottery industry! You will also be contributing to a unique piece of local art, and help commemorate the 50 years of work where the BJF has been championing the voices of older people.

Places are limited, so please let us know if you would like to be involved in this event.
